Re: Letter of Recommendation

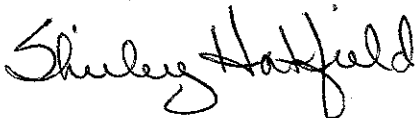

To Whom It May Concern,

Since I have worked for Oberfield's, Inc., Ohio Employee Health Partnership (OEHP) has represented our company and worked with our injured workers proving to us time and time again their high level of commitment to the management of our claims. One of the efforts that I have been most impressed was the coordination of the meeting with Oberfield's, our third party administrator, our healthcare providers, staff from the Ohio Bureau of Workers' Compensation, and our team from OEHP. We shared and gained a lot of good information in regards to Oberfield's claims' management. What an added benefit!

OEHP's professionalism and commitment are second to none. I have worked over five years with Tony Jones on the majority of our claims, since most are medical only. He is always so helpful and timely. Sometimes he knows about the claims before I do and is quick to notify me. When our claims go into a lost-time status, the OEHP team manages the claims with a concern that the injured worker's healthcare is top quality and at the same time monitoring Oberfield's best interests.

The kind of working relationship we have is so hard to find. I feel we have not only built a rock-solid partnership over the years, we have also established personal friendships that make working together a real pleasure.

Sincerely,
